

Assistant/ Associate Professor of Entrepreneurship and Innovation ESCP Europe Business School Turin Campus

ESCP Europe, the World's First Business School (est. 1819), with campuses in Berlin, London, Madrid, Paris, Turin and Warsaw, invites applications for an open rank position in Entrepreneurship and Innovation at Assistant/ Associate level. The position is based at the ESCP Europe Turin Campus with a starting date of September 2019 or earlier. The appointee will become part of the Department of Entrepreneurship and also have the opportunity to collaborate with Jean-Baptiste Say Institute for Entrepreneurship, comprised of more than 50 people across all campuses.

We are looking for motivated, high-potential and dynamic candidates with a strong interest and research track record in entrepreneurship and innovation. The ideal candidate's research interests may include entrepreneurial phenomena and theories (mindset, processes, pedagogy, etc.), entrepreneurial approaches to digital innovation, technology management, start-ups and agile organizing. The candidate's research has the potential to be published in international top-tier peer-reviewed research journals. The candidate shows a proven ability to deliver quality teaching at both the graduate and undergraduate levels, with a strong interest in developing his/her executive education skills. The position requires a balance among research, teaching, curriculum development, and community development.
